LEVEL 1

Different time-zones

Dear detectives, welcome to the Den Kijker hotel in Amsterdam. Thank you for taking the time to help us solve the murder of Herman den Kijker. We think that we missed clues in some of the most important rooms, or we weren't able to crack some of the codes. We have found Herman's laptop here in the lobby but we aren't able to get in, Herman has locked it with a code. Are you able to crack to code and look at the information that is within?

Question: What is the password?

Question: What is the on the laptop?

LEVEL 2

This witness was a guest at the hotel and was also in the jury during the cooking competition.

Question: On which table was Herman seated during the competition?

Question: Whose food did Herman eat during the competition?

I don't remember the exact table I was seated in but I do remember the taste of the food very vividly. It was rather unfortunate that I didn't find a pearl in my food but the taste was extraordinary! The two meals were a very good fit with each other and both fell in the same category. It was a lovely meal!

I remember that Herman was seated on the table to the left of me, he looked rather troubled after finishing his dinner. I also remember that on my right-side; a flower pot fell over due to the wind.

LEVEL 3

We know that the killer slept in this hallway. Unfortunately the killer always seems to be 1 step ahead of us. All the guests here switched rooms and we have lost sight of which guest was in which room. This is crucial for finding the next clue.

Question: What is the final room order?

LEVEL 4

Great job on finding the correct room order! We can finally move into the room of the suspected killer and look for clues there. I would like to hear about everything that you are able to find inside of the room.

Question: What is the murder weapon?

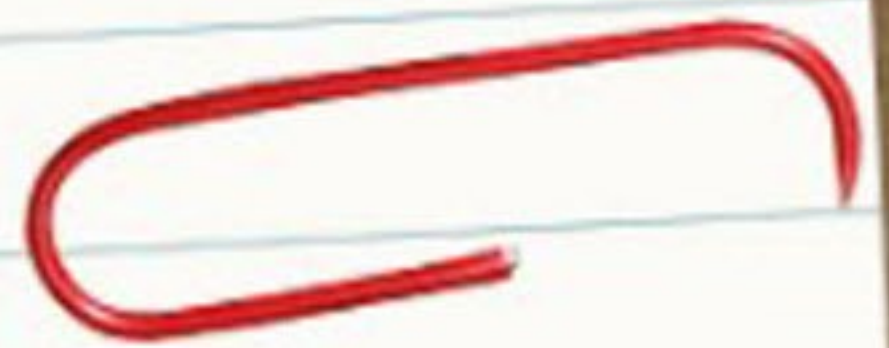

Sushi

Nigiri Sushi

2x Salmon

3x Tuna

Rice

LEVEL 5

We think we are missing a room in the building because we weren't able to find the security room thus far. We expect that the security footage will reveal more of what happened the day of the murder. Can you help us to find the room?

Question: where is the security room?

I was looking for Herman. I think this was 2 hours prior to the actual competition. I heard his voice coming from the library but when I entered to talk to him he wasn't there.

The only thing I can vaguely remember is that he was talking about Harry and his wild, red hair.

LEVEL 6

Great Job on finding the security room. Take a look around the room and uncover the security footage to answer the next questions.
Nothing is as it seems..

Question: where did the victim die?

Question: What was the motive of the killer?
